Notes

Analysis is at the level of a course (e.g. ACC225) and does not consider how many sections of this course were offered. The approach can be repeated using number of sections if desired (a type of "weighed" patterning). Analysis includes TRS courses. It can be repeated without these courses if desired.

Data from WebOPUS Class Search of courses offered for these semesters. OIRPA should be asked to replicate using Banner data. The analysis also could be done on all courses listed in each academic year catalog not just these courses that happened to be taught in the targeted semester.

Detail by individual course shown on individual tabs. Detail by individual section available on request.

* 0 credits indicates lab sections attached to a lecture. Displayed for informational purposes about the number of these types of courses

 Course created to be offered at a range of credits, e.g. "1 to 4," "1 to 6"
